

University North Studying at North

University North is a modern and future-oriented higher education institution with over 5000 students across two university centers, offering engaging and practical study programs, quality equipment, and a range of renowned professors and lecturers.

University North is the largest Croatian public integrated university operating in the northwestern region of Croatia and offers programs in more than thirty different fields to prospective students. All programs at University North are designed in line with the latest scientific and professional trends, with experiences shared by over 450 scientists and experts from various fields and industries, many of whom are leaders in their fields in Croatia and beyond.

Graduates of University North are highly sought after in the labour market, and it is not uncommon for them to venture into entrepreneurial and business waters themselves. According to many, the knowledge gained during studies at one of the programs at North provides a solid foundation for independent career beginnings. As part of various international mobility programs, some of the classes or student internships can be completed in European countries or around the world.

In addition to the high quality of its own academic staff and regular classes, the University complements its students' education with numerous current and engaging guest lectures by top experts.

Students from North are equally creative and innovative, ready for demanding work and learning, as well as enjoying socializing and entertainment through a range of student associations and activities, spanning from sports to humanitarian and cultural ones.

The advantage of University North, as a young and dynamic institution, compared to the competition, lies in its continuous improvement, keeping up with the latest technologies and trends, and impressive technical equipment, which is also set among the strategic guidelines for the future.
